

Cafeteria Staff Adds Zest To Daily Life

A great majority of people who dine in the school cafeterias agree that some of the friendliest workers in the school are on the lunchroom staff. The ladies of the lunchroom add a spark of encouragement to students who go through the line five days a week.

"Students here are really terrific," Mrs. Peggy Keiffer remarked. She continued to say, "I try to make the students' day brighter and happier . . . I hope I do!"

Halloween brought a lot of enthusiasm to the north and south campus cafeterias. Several women workers dressed up in colorful costumes to bring some variety to the school day. Mrs. Emma Dreher, north campus cafeteria manager, had her usual fun as Santa Claus prior to the Christmas holidays.

During the week of the Rayburn game, the slogan at the north campus was, "Top the Texans!" The lunchroom staff joined in this event by wearing hats ranging from an old straw hat brightly decorated with flowers to an engineer's cap.

A. Mrs. Pat Chapman, a member of the north campus cafeteria staff, greets freshman Carol Buffalo with her colorfully decorated witch's costume. B. Junior Jay Bole purchases his lunch from Mrs. Dorothy Sheppard, a member of the south campus cafeteria staff, who works one of the cash registers regularly. C. North campus cafeteria manager, Mrs. Emma Dreher, motivates the student body during the week of halloween and the Dobie game by wearing outlandish costumes. D. Mrs. Margaret Guettler has the job of washing dishes after lunch on this particular day. The job schedule rotates periodically to give each employee a change in duties. E. Mrs. Wendy Knox, north campus staff member, refills the cash register with money in order to have change.

